

A waste management system focused on recycling and reducing landfill waste is proposed with a requested investment of $200,000. This high-risk project, located in Germany, will be implemented over 24 months. By introducing innovative recycling technologies, the initiative aims to enhance environmental sustainability and reduce greenhouse gas emissions caused by improper waste disposal.