

This project involves a $500,000 investment to construct a green building equipped with energy-efficient systems and eco-friendly materials. Located in Canada, the construction is expected to take 30 months and carries a low-risk status. The initiative supports environmental sustainability by reducing energy consumption and promoting sustainable urban development.